

EDUCATION YOU CAN TRUST...

AND APPLY.

Whole Food Practice is an independent consulting group and collaborative teaching organization made up of our core staff, affiliated mentors and eLearning presenters.

We serve the education needs of healthcare practitioners and their staff using the Standard Process® and MediHerb® product lines by hosting seminars and webinars, developing online CEU and educational courses, providing coaching, and managing various professional nutrition certification programs.

Nutritional Certifications for Practitioners & Staff

Join us for the Applied Clinical Nutrition (ACN) or the Nutritional Clinical Assistant (NCA) certification. Make time for a nutritional focus and you will surely be surprised at how this manifests in your life and your practice. Earn the certification and display it proudly.

Online Education

Fill the gaps in your nutritional knowledge with targeted eLearning courses. We deliver smart, specific, and practical training right to your computer, tablet or phone. Programs include relicensing CEU courses, webinars, simulcast seminars, nutritional business development courses, and free, all access mini courses.

1-1 Coaching

Integrate your nutritional skills in a systematic way so you see growth and change in your practice. Your investment should yield a return that translates to success with patients and in your business. Book your complimentary discovery session and see if your goals are a match for our coaching support.

Our staff, speakers and mentors are all dedicated practitioners from a variety of healing arts. They bring their passion, talent and keen eye for patient evaluation and natural solutions to every seminar, webinar, online course, and conversation.

We welcome their knowledge, resources and ability to share true nutritional education and wisdom.
